During the preliminary conference, the Tribunal asked the parties clarificatory questions and distributed Preliminary Conference Guides to facilitate the conduct of the proceeding.⁵ The parties requested for time to study the guides, which the Tribunal granted.⁶

The Tribunal also informed the parties that it recently received Protestant's Motion for Technical Examination filed on July 10, 2017 and Protestant's Manifestation and Compliance with Reiterative Motion to Direct the Collection of Ballot Boxes and other election documents and paraphernalia for the pilot provinces filed on July 10, 2017.⁷ Atty. Macalintal manifested that protestee had not received a copy of the Motion for Technical Examination and the Manifestation in Compliance with Reiterative Motion to Direct the Collection of Ballot Boxes and other election documents and paraphernalia for the pilot provinces.⁸ Protestant was ordered to provide a copy to protestee, and protestee was given a period of ten (10) days within which to file her comment.⁹

The parties were also ordered to limit the number of witnesses for the second and third causes of action to three (3) witnesses per clustered precinct.¹⁰ For the first cause of action, protestant's proposed number of witnesses was reduced from fifty (50) to twenty-five (25); protestee's number of witnesses was set at ten (10).¹¹ Both parties agreed to the limitation.¹² They were ordered to submit a new list of witnesses in compliance with the given limits and to specify the applicable precincts per witness.¹³ The parties were also informed that the Tribunal would adopt the Judicial Affidavit Rule for the proceedings.¹⁴

Accordingly, after the adjournment of the preliminary conference, the Tribunal adopted the following resolutions:
